LOS ANGELES MEMORIAL COLISEUM

PRESS GATE AND PRESS WILL CALL

Originally opened in 1923, the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum, now the oldest stadium in use by a National Football League team, was enlarged for the Olympic Games in 1932. The Coliseum was also the site of the 1984 Olympics. The Coliseum has the largest seating capacity in the NFL at 92,488.

PRESS CREDENTIALS

Accredited media representatives should address requests for working press credentials on their organization's letterhead to the Public Relations Department, Los Angeles Raiders, 332 Center Street, El Segundo, California 90245. Call 213/322-3451.

PRESS BOX

The press entrance to the stadium is through Gate Six. Press Will Call is located in the special booth just outside Gate 6. Both are on the south (press box) side of the Coliseum

ELECTRONIC TRANSMISSIONS

Requests for Amfax circuits should be made at least one week in advance through Rick Laubert, P.O. Box 2701, Palos Verdes Estates, California 90274. Phone: 213/494-8757.

PRIVATE PHONE LINES

Requests to acquire private phone lines in the Coliseum press box should be made with Jody Kennedy at the Coliseum offices. Phone: 213/747-7111, ext. 368.

TEAM OF THE DECADES

The Green Bay Packers were the NFL team of the '60s, the Pittsburgh Steelers the team of the '70s and the San Francisco 49ers the team of the '80s. But only one team was dominant throughout that three-decade span. The Raiders—first in Oakland and then in Los Angeles —have been "The Team of the Decades."

The Raiders, winners of three World Championships of Professional Football, are the only team to have been in Super Bowls in the '60s, the '70s and the '80s.

The Raiders are the only original American Football League team to have won a Super Bowl since 1969 and have already done so three times.

The Raiders are the only AFC team to have won a Super Bowl in the '80s—and did so twice.

The Raiders are the only AFC team to have won Super Bowls under more than one head coach.

Since 1963, when Al Davis first took over the failing Oakland franchise that had struggled to win only nine of 42 league games in the initial three seasons of the new American Football League, and pledged to build the finest organization in sports, the Raiders have totally dominated professional football in terms of consistent victory.

During that memorable 28-year span, the Raiders won 269 league games, tied 11 and lost only 130. The Raiders continue to stand alone atop the National Football League with their winning percentage of .674. Commitment to Excellence has never been an idle phrase to those who have proudly represented the Raider organization during the '60s, '70s, '80s and now the '90s.

Equally impressive with their four-decade domination of pro football is the Raiders' long reign as the most successful organization in all of the major professional sports world for more than a quarter-century.

TOP PROFESSIONAL SPORTS RECORDS 1963-1990

Professional Sport	Top Team	Winning Percentage
1. Football	LOS ANGELES RAIDERS	.674
2. Basketball	Boston Celtics	.661
3. Hockey	Montreal Canadiens	.655
4. Baseball	Baltimore Orioles	.555

For four decades the Raiders have continually defied the odds to maintain their unparalleled level of excellence as professional sports' winningest team. Since 1967, when the Raiders won the AFL Championship and went to the Super Bowl in their very first season in the playoffs, the Silver and Black has fought its way into the playoffs 16 times, played in 12 Championship games, won or shared 14 Division Championships and won the American Football League Championship, three American Football Conference Championships and three World Championships of Professional Football.

Seven of the great players who proudly wore Silver and Black have already been enshrined in the Professional Football Hall of Fame. Five different Raider head coaches have already been selected as Pro Football Coach-of-the-Year.

In 1970, as the Raiders began their second decade of play, the merger between the AFL and NFL became a reality on the field. In the 1970-1990 period of interconference play the Raiders have compiled a remarkable 50-24-1 record against present NFC rivals.

Another innovation came to professional football in 1970—Monday Night Football. The Raiders' total domination of this prime-time ABC television series has seen the Silver and Black build an incredible 29-6-1 record in Monday night play. In the 21 years of this series the Raiders have never lost a Monday Night Football game at home, earning a 12-0-0 record over the three decades.

For their four decades—the '60s, '70s, '80s and '90s—the Raiders have had the greatest players, the greatest coaches, the greatest plays and participated in the greatest games in the annals of professional sports.

The past has been glorious but the greatness of the Raiders is in its future. Challengers to Raider domination of professional football will arise in the 1990s as they have in the '60s, the '70s and the '80s. The Raider organization will continue to meet these challenges. In the '90s, as before, the Raiders will continue to be THE TEAM OF THE DECADES.

RAIDER OWNERS

AL DAVIS
President of the General Partner

A total commitment to excellence has marked the three-time World Champion Raiders monumental rise during the last 28 years to the very top of the professional sports world. During these decades of destiny the Raiders battled their way to the best record in major professional sports.

In these memorable 28 years the Raiders have had 23 winning seasons, including 16 in a row from 1965 through the 1980 World Championship season.

The astute, fearless leader who charted, then guided the progress of the Raider organization during these challenging years is Owner-President of the General Partner Al Davis.

Davis' four-decade professional football story, from assistant coach of the Chargers, to head coach and general manager of the Raiders, to Commissioner of the American Football League and finally to principal owner and chief executive officer of pro sports' winningest team—the Los Angeles Raiders—is a standard that no one in the history of professional sports can match for winning and excellence.

In April, 1966, the then 36-year old Davis, head coach and general manager of the Raiders, became Commissioner of the American Football League. This was a post he accepted reluctantly for first and foremost Al Davis was a football coach, and knew that assuming the Commissionership would in all probability mean an end to his coaching career.

But AFL owners, needing drive and direction in their battle with the rival National Football League, prevailed on Davis to accept the position. He was described by AFL president Ralph Wilson as, "a coaching genius and astute administrator." AFL owners pointed to his brilliant coaching, recruiting and administrative record and the unique high esteem in which he was held by players, coaches and media throughout the country.

Just eight weeks later, when pro football's two major leagues put an end to their six year war, Davis was acclaimed nationally as the driving force who brought the leagues to the conference table. When the historic merger was completed, Davis resigned his post as AFL Commissioner.

In 1969, he was once again a prime force in the dramatic realignment of professional football when two 13-team conferences—the AFC and NFC—were formed for 1970. He played a vital role in the development of the game as a key participant in the prestigious NFL Competition Committee and, as a member of the NFL Owners Executive Committee, continues to be a major force in the growth and direction of all phases of professional football.

Al Davis first came to the Raiders in January, 1963, dedicated to rescuing the faltering Oakland franchise and building the finest organization in professional sports. Just 33, Davis was the youngest man in pro football to hold the demanding dual positions of head coach and general manager.

But Davis already possessed 14 years coaching experience. He had been tabbed a "young coaching genius" by Sports Illustrated and "the most inventive mind in the country" by Scholastic Coach magazine. The Raiders, with only nine wins in their 42-game history, were failing badly on the field and survival of both the franchise and the young league were at stake.

But 1963 saw the start of one of the great rehabilitation jobs in sports history. Introducing a meticulously designed, explosive offense and entirely new concepts in team defense, the Raiders—"picked to finish dead last"—thundered to a 10-4 record and just missed the Division Championship. This nine-win improvement in just a single season remains the greatest such accomplishment in the records of professional football.

Davis was named Coach of the Year by Associated Press, United Press International, Sports Illustrated, Sporting News and his fellow coaches. He became the first sports figure ever honored by the Chamber of Commerce as Oakland's Young Man of the Year.

Perhaps his most singular honor is having made a record eight presentations of inductees to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. The eight great players to have selected Al Davis to make the presentation speeches on their behalf are Lance Alworth, Jim Otto, George Blanda, Willie Brown, Gene Upshaw, Fred Biletnikoff, Art Shell and Ted Hendricks.

In May of 1991 Al Davis became the very first recipient of the NFL Players Association's Retired Players Award of Excellence "for his contributions to the men who played the game."

Born July 4, 1929, Al Davis was raised in Brockton, Massachusetts, and later in Brooklyn, New York. He attended Wittenberg College and Syracuse University, earning a degree in English while playing football, basketball and baseball.

In 1950, Davis was named line coach at Adelphi College in New York. His innovative technical football articles published in the leading coaching magazines gained him wide attention and acclaim. He then went into the Army, being assigned as head football coach at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia. There he molded a national power service team and capped one season by defeating the University of Maryland, national collegiate champions, in a squad game.

Davis next served on the staff of the NFL's Baltimore Colts in 1954, at age 24, concentrating on player personnel work. During 1955-56, he was line coach and chief recruiter at The Citadel. He then spent three years at the University of Southern California as line coach. In 1959, Davis was also defensive coordinator at USC.

In 1960, head coach Sid Gillman hired Davis as offensive end coach of the newly formed Los Angeles Chargers. There Davis developed the most feared and imitated passing attack in football and kept the Chargers in the very forefront in the fight for college talent. From the Chargers in Los Angeles, and then in San Diego, it was on to successfully meet the challenges with the Raiders in Oakland in 1963 and then in Los Angeles in 1982.

Aside from his deep love of the Raiders, Al Davis remains vitally interested in all phases of sports, both college and professional, as well as local, national and international events.

ART SHELL
Head Coach

Art Shell enters his third season as head coach of the Los Angeles Raiders in 1991 and 24th year with the organization. In 1990, the former Raider player and assistant coach led the Silver and Black to the playoffs for their 16th time when the team posted a 12-4 record and won the American Football Conference Western Division Championship.

The 1989 inductee into the Pro Football Hall of Fame has accumulated a 19-9 record in league play and 20-10-0 including the playoffs. In his first preseason as head coach, the Raiders went 4-1-0 in 1990. For his efforts, Shell was named Pro Football Coach-of-the-Year, joining four other former Raider field generals who earlier earned this prestigious honor.

Now 44 years old, Shell was a Pro Bowl selection eight times - the most of any Raider - during a playing career that spanned three decades - the '60s, '70s and '80s.

In his first assignment as a Pro Bowl coach, Shell led the AFC to a win over the NFC All-Stars. With the victory, Shell became the first former Pro Bowl player to ever coach a winning team in the Pro Bowl.

Shell was named head coach of the Silver and Black by Raiders President of the General Partner Al Davis after the fourth game of the 1989 National Football League season.

"Art Shell represents pride and poise. He's always had quality, self-esteem and dignity," said Davis on October 3, 1989, the date of Shell's elevation to head coach after having served as an assistant coach for seven seasons.

Shell joined the Raider coaching staff in 1983 after retiring as an active player following 15 memorable seasons as one of the greatest offensive tackles in professional football history.

Said Shell during the announcement of his hiring: "We're about winning. We're going to put the players in a position to win. We've had great players here, great coaches. And I plan on following in that tradition of being a great coach."

In Art Shell's debut as head coach on October 9, 1989, before a sellout crowd and a Monday night national television audience, the Raiders beat the New York Jets, 14-7. The Raiders went 7-5-0 in Shell's first year, including a 6-0-0 record at home in the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

During his playing career the Raiders had a league record of 150-56-7, made the playoffs 11 times and won two World Championships of Professional Football. Art Shell was the starting left tackle for the Raiders in both of these Super Bowl victories—Super Bowl XI after the 1976 season when the Raiders downed the Minnesota Vikings, 32-14, in the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, California and again in Super Bowl XV after the 1980 season when the Raiders defeated the Philadelphia Eagles, 27-10 in the Louisiana Superdome in New Orleans.

Shell, who combined massive size (6-5, 285 pounds), with outstanding talent, technique and intensity, earned his third Super Bowl ring as an assistant coach when the Raiders beat the Washington Redskins 38-9, in Super Bowl XVIII in Tampa Stadium.

Arthur Shell, Jr. was born November 26, 1946 in Charleston, South Carolina. At Bonds-Wilson High School in North Charleston he was All-State in football as a center and defensive tackle and All-State in basketball as a center.

Now a member of the South Carolina Hall of Fame, Art Shell attended Maryland State College (now Maryland-Eastern Shore), graduating in 1968 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Arts.

He was a three-time All-Conference tackle on both offense and defense, from 1965 through 1967, and an All-America selection in both 1966 and 1967. He also lettered two seasons in basketball.

Art Shell began his professional football career in 1968 as a third round draft choice of the Oakland Raiders. He went on to play in 207 league games, third most in Raider history behind fellow Pro Football Hall of Famers Gene Upshaw (217 games) and Jim Otto (210 games). Shell also participated in 23 postseason contests for the Silver and Black, from 1968 through 1982.

Shell played in 156 consecutive league games from 1968 through 1978 before a knee injury in a 1979 preseason game caused him to miss the first five games of the 1979 season—the only games he missed during 15 years of play. He then played in an additional 51 straight NFL games before retiring following the 1982 season.

Shell is the ninth head coach in the 32-year history of the Raider organization. Since 1966, when Al Davis returned to the Silver and Black as Managing General Partner, after serving as Commissioner of the American Football League, the Raiders have had only four other head coaches—John Rauch (1966-1968), John Madden (1969-1978), Tom Flores (1979-1987) and Mike Shanahan (1988-1989).

As with Shell, for each of these men the Raider job was their first as a head coach. With his being named Coach-of-the-Year by UPI, Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News, Football News and the Maxwell Club in 1990, Shell joins Davis, Rauch, Madden and Flores as Raider head coaches who were tabbed for this award.

The Shell family consists of wife Janice and two sons, Arthur III, 17, and Christopher, 15.

DAVE ADOLPH
Defense, Linebackers

Dave Adolph, now in his 29th year of coaching in the NFL and college football, joined the Raiders staff in February, 1989. Adolph, 54, served as defensive coordinator for the Cleveland Browns from 1986-88. He began his NFL coaching career with the Browns in 1979, spending six years there thru 1984. The Akron, Ohio native joined the staff of the San Diego Chargers in 1985, then returned to the Cleveland organization in 1986. Adolph played guard and linebacker at the University of Akron and entered coaching in 1962 at Cleveland's Shaw High after three years as an officer in the Air Force. He joined the Akron staff in 1966 and coached at Connecticut, Kentucky, Illinois and Ohio State before joining the Browns. Adolph and his wife Betty have four sons and one daughter.

FRED BILETNIKOFF
Wide Receivers

Fred Biletnikoff rejoined the Raiders in February, 1989 after having previously played 14 seasons for the Silver and Black. The 48-year-old Pro Football Hall of Famer coached wide receivers for Calgary of the CFL in 1987 and 1988. He coached for two USFL teams— Arizona in 1986 and Oakland in 1985 and coached at Diablo Valley J.C. in 1984, Palomar J.C. in 1983, Orange Glen High in 1982, and with Montreal in 1980. He played in 190 games and was MVP in Super Bowl XI. The Erie, Pennsylvania native is the Raiders all-time leading receiver with 589 catches and holds Raider records in receiving yards and receiving TDs. He played in three AFL title games, five AFC championships and in Super Bowls II and XI. He played in two AFL All-Star games and four Pro Bowls after joining the Raiders as a second round draft choice in 1965 from Florida State. The Biletnikoff family includes wife Angela .

GUNTHER CUNNINGHAM
Linebackers

Gunther Cunningham comes to the Raiders after serving as San Diego Chargers defensive line coach for six seasons. The Munich, Germany native was coordinator of pro personnel evaluation for the Chargers before taking over coaching duties in 1985. He previously served as defensive line coach for the Indianapolis Colts from 1982-84, and defensive line and linebackers coach for the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the CFL in 1981. Cunningham, 45, graduated from Oregon where he was a linebacker and placekicker from 1966-68. He coached the Oregon defensive line from 1969-71 before moving to Arkansas as secondary coach (1972), then to Stanford as defensive line coach (1973-76). Cunningham and his wife Rene have one daughter and one son.

KIM HELTON
Offensive Line

Kim Helton joined the Raiders in February, 1990 after four seasons as offensive line coach with the Houston Oilers. Helton, 42, began his NFL coaching career in 1983 with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, where he served as offensive line coach through 1986. The Pensacola, Florida native was a three-year starter at center for the University of Florida (1967-69), earning Offensive MVP honors as a senior. After earning a physical education degree, he coached at Eastside High in Gainesville, Florida from 1970-71 before joining the Florida staff as a graduate assistant in 1972. He became a full-time assistant in 1973 handling Florida's offensive line, remaining through 1978 before serving as offensive coordinator/offensive line coach at the University of Miami for four seasons (1979-82). Helton and his wife Pamela have two sons.

EARL LEGGETT
Defensive Line

WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP RINGS

The Raiders World Championship rings—awarded to players, coaches, staff and owners after the dominating victories in Super Bowl XI, Super Bowl XV and Super Bowl XVIII—are renowned as the most memorable pieces of championship team jewelry ever produced. The rings were produced by Lenox Awards of St. Charles, Illinois, whose staff developed creative concepts incorporating the explicit guidelines established by the Raiders—white gold, a raised football-shaped crest of diamonds on a black surface and a design based on "massive excellence" that would recognize these crowning achievements by the Raider organization.

The Super Bowl XVIII ring design features three large diamonds to represent the three World Championships won within eight years, each centered in a football-shaped crest plus an additional 20 five-point diamonds. The ring was developed by Raider Managing General Partner Al Davis, Head Coach Tom Flores, Executive Assistant Al LoCasale and Lenox Awards President Tom Marzullo

The Super Bowl XI ring design, featuring a large center diamond and 26 five-point diamonds on the ring face was developed by Raider Managing General Partner Al Davis, Head Coach John Madden, Executive Assistant Al LoCasale and Lenox Awards artist Elliot Ingberg.

The Super Bowl XV ring design, featuring two large center diamonds to symbolize the two World Championships won within five years, and 33 five-point diamonds on the ring face, was developed by Raider Managing General Partner Al Davis, Head Coach Tom Flores, Executive Assistant Al LoCasale and Lenox Awards President Tom Brasher.

RAIDERS RADIO NETWORK

Local, regional and national rights to Los Angeles Raiders radio broadcasts are held jointly by Bob Speck Productions, a Los Angeles firm headed by veteran sports broadcast packaging executive Bob Speck, and by KFI Radio-AM 640.

Speck Productions has met increasing demand for Raider football by developing a still-growing radio network involving more than three dozen stations in 11 states to air Raider action throughout California and the Western United States.

Los Angeles Raiders broadcasts originate on KFI (AM 640), flagship station for the Raider Radio Network. KFI, owned and operated by Cox Enterprises, is headed by Vice President and General Manager Howard Neal. The 50,000 watt KFI, a pioneering Southern California radio symbol with one of the most powerful signals in the entire United States, provides the Raiders with enviable coverage throughout the primary California market and much of the West.

Bill King, highly-acclaimed radio voice of the Raiders since 1966, will again handle play-by-play, plus pregame and postgame commentary, for the 26th consecutive season. King enters the 1990 season having already broadcast 521 Raider games (120 preseason, 368 league and 33 postseason games). Rich Marotta, winner of nine Golden Mike Awards, will supply color commentary and analysis for Raider Radio for the tenth year. Throughout the week, as well as on game days, KFI Sports Director Chris Roberts will air special Raider news and features.

In his second year with the Raider radio team is 16-year NFL veteran quarterback Jim Plunkett, Heisman Trophy winner at Stanford University, Most Valuable Player as the Raiders won the World Championship of Professional Football in Super Bowl XV against the Philadelphia Eagles and again the winning quarterback as the Raiders won Super Bowl XVIII against the Washington Redskins. Plunkett, a nine-year Raider star, will be featured on the "Raider Talk" segment of the pregame and postgame shows, among other appearances. Veteran Raider executive assistant Al LoCasale and KFI's Chris Roberts will pair up again to do "Inside Raider Football" before every Raider game.

Game-day coverage of the Raiders on 50,000 watt KFI Radio begins three hours before kickoff. Extended aftergame programming will include "Raider Recap," "The Locker Room Show," "Raider Scoreboard," "Raider Fifth Quarter," "Raider Replay," "NFL Scoreboard" and "Raider Talk." A full eight hours of Raider football on game days of the Silver and Black—from 10:00 am for a 1:00 pm game, until closeout at 6:00 pm.
